Fort Worth Alliance Airport Thomas J. Harris

President of Alliance Air/Aviation Services
Hillwood Properties

Tom Harris has been an integral part of the development and success of AllianceTexas. With more than 25 years of tenure with Hillwood, Harris has touched every aspect of the business.

Harris began his career with Hillwood in 1990 at the Fort Worth Alliance Airport, the world's first industrial airport. A key player in its development, Harris worked to establish and grow the airport's Fixed Base Operation and Airport Management companies into world class operations.

In 2000, Harris moved to direct Hillwood Properties' Operations and Administration for the AllianceTexas development, which included: property and land management, aerospace and aviation business development, community relations, office administration, security, special events and owners' association activities. In his role as Senior Vice President of Operations, Harris was also responsible for launching and overseeing Hillwood's latest success, Alliance Landscape Company; an initiative to provide more efficient and economical high-quality landscape and irrigation solutions for AllianceTexas customers. He continues to oversee that business today.

Harris recently rejoined the Fort Worth Alliance Airport as President of Alliance Air Services and Alliance Aviation Services and oversees the management, operation and service provision for both groups. Alliance Air/Aviation Services, Hillwood's aviation management and service companies, manages Alliance Airport for the city of Fort Worth. Alliance Aviation Services operates Hillwood's full-service Fixed Base Operation (FBO) at the airport.

Harris also serves as President of Alliance Air Productions, a non-profit organization responsible for producing the Fort Worth Alliance Air Show. This air show is recognized as one of the best civilian produced shows in the country.
